

Wild City:

an exploration of the hidden world we share

Exhibition at Town House Gallery
5 Fournier St, London E1 6QE

19 May to 17 June 2018

Tuesday to Friday 11am – 6pm. Saturday to Monday 11am – 5pm

Plants in the City have survived two millennia of building, burning, bombing, clearing and rebuilding.

They have escaped from containment in botanic gardens and found their way on to our streets.

They have invaded from countries around the world.

Artist and local resident, Liz Davis has worked with the Natural History Museum to catalogue these survivors, invaders and escapees. Each plant has been gathered, pressed and preserved with its roots, flowers and seeds exquisite in their fragile detail.

Through maps, photographs and specimens the exhibition reveals the amazing natural world that exists at the periphery of our human existence.
